7th Friends of Friends Meeting

We are close to the seventh Friends of Friends 2017 meeting that will be held in Cordoba (Argentina) from April 3 to 7, 2017. We are pleased to announce the program which can be seen on the official website <http://fof.oac.uncor.edu/fof/program.html>. Please check day/time allocated to you.

We will have an Astrominformatics session on Thursday on computing techniques, high performance computing and machine learning using R and Python. Please bring you personal computer.

The poster sessions will also have an oral presentation of five minutes per person in order to summarize the work. The size of your poster should be at a maximum of: width = 0.80 m, height = 1.20 m.

In this edition there will be recreational, sports (basquet and football), cultural, social and tourist activities. If you have any dietary restrictions (food allergies, vegetarian, etc.), please let us know ASAP so that we can make sure to accommodate you.

We are developing a phone app for the meeting, we request (optional) to the participants a photo and updated link to personal webpages in order to be included on it.

Questions should be addressed to the meeting email: fof@oac.unc.edu.ar

See you soon in Cordoba, the FoF 2017 LOC.

Organizing institutions: IATE (Instituto de Astronomía Teórica y Experimental - CONICET/UNC) and OAC (Observatorio Astronómico de Córdoba – UNC).
